

...tation Center in Appleton.

Veesser has been Mercy's chief nursing officer since July 2003. He was director of the Affinity Health System Heart & Lung Center from April 2002 until July 2003.

Veesser received nursing degrees from Northern Michigan University, Marquette, Mich., and Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, Ill.

Business network topic of innovators' session

GRAND CHUTE - The Wisconsin Entrepreneurs' Network (WEN) will be the topic of the Wisconsin Innovation Network meeting at 4:45 p.m. Nov. 17 at the D.J. Bordini Center, 5 Systems Drive.

The speaker will be Kurt Waldhuetter, the WEN's northeast regional director.

WEN is a super-highway to resources and services designed to help businesses grow. WEN's primary services include one-on-one business counseling, educational workshops, executive level programs, peer learning, technology assessment/licensing and strategies to fund new product development.

There will be time for networking after the presentation. To register, go to www.wisconsinotechnologycouncil.com. The cost is $5

METAL FABRICATOR ERIC CRISCIONE grinds the surface of a steel platform being fabricated at Val-Fab Inc. in Neenah.

Paul Omerout photo by Mike De Gail